

SCHOOL ADMISSIONS APPEALS

September 2025

MANCHESTER
CITY COUNCIL

Introduction

To Parents/Carers

This booklet will be of interest to those parents/carers who have not been able to obtain a place for their child in the school of their choice.

This booklet deals with the admission appeals for all Manchester schools where the local authority is the admission authority. If you are appealing for a school where they are their own admission authority, you will need to contact the school direct. You can also contact the School Admissions Team (see point 32), who will be able to advise you further.

The School Standards and Framework Act 1998 gives parents the right to express a preference for the particular school(s) they wish their child to attend.

If your request for a place at a particular school has been refused in writing by the admission authority, you can:

- a. Appeal: you have the right to appeal against the admission authority's decision to refuse the admission.
- b. Contact the local authority's Admissions Team to ask about vacancies in other schools (contact details at the back of the booklet).

1 How do I find a school for my child to attend?

If you are told there is no place available at your preferred school, you should contact the School Admissions Team – contact details can be found in point 30 of this booklet. There are details of all Manchester Schools available at manchester.gov.uk/admissions.

2 How do school waiting lists operate?

School waiting lists for community and voluntary controlled schools are maintained by the School Admissions Team. Each child on a school waiting list is given a category as described in the admissions booklet. Children are then put in priority order according to these categories. If a place becomes available in the relevant year group, the child at the top of the list can be admitted to the school. At the end of the academic year, all applicants will be removed from all waiting lists. The only exception will be if the applicant has not been offered a place at any Manchester school. Waiting lists for other types of schools are maintained by the schools.

3 I have considered all the other schools available but I still want my child to go to the original school. What should I do?

You are entitled to appeal against the admission authority's decision to refuse your child a place at the school of your choice. You can download the form from the website address or complete the appeal form on-line at: www.manchester.gov.uk/schoolappeals

4 When can I not appeal?

If your child has been permanently excluded from two or more schools, or if your child has been placed at the school by IYFAP, you cannot appeal for two years from the date of the latest exclusion.

5 When should I appeal for a primary school place?

You should appeal when you have been refused a place in writing at your preferred school and you have considered other primary schools for your child.

If your child is beyond the reception class age, you can appeal after you have been told in writing of the admission authority's decision to refuse admission in the year for which you have applied.

Under Government legislation, infant classes must not contain more than 30 pupils with a single schoolteacher. If a place has been refused on the grounds of infant-class size, an appeal can only be upheld if:

- a. The child would have been offered a place if the admission arrangements had been properly implemented.
- b. The child would have been offered a place if the arrangements had not been contrary to mandatory provisions in the School Admissions Code and Part 3 of the School Standards and Framework Act 1998.
- c. The decision to refuse admission was not one a reasonable admission authority would have made in the circumstances.

6 Is there a deadline for me to submit my appeal for a primary school place?

If you wish to ensure that your appeal for a reception place is considered before the start of the autumn term, you should submit your appeal form by 19 May 2025 (see note 31 for where to submit your appeal).

7 When should I appeal for a secondary school place for Year 7 in September 2025?

You should submit your appeal form by 31 March 2025 if you want to ensure that your appeal is considered before the start of the autumn term (see note 31 for where to submit your appeal).

If your child is not transferring from Year 6 to Year 7, you can appeal after you have been refused a place in writing in that particular year group.

8 How long will it take for my appeal to be heard?

- a. Appeals for entry into Year 7 at secondary school in September 2025 received by the published deadline date of 31 March 2025 should be heard by the end of the summer term where possible.
- b. Appeals for entry into reception class in September 2025, received by the published deadline date of 19 May 2025, should be heard before the end of the 2025 summer term.

If you miss the deadline for a reception appeal, then it could be during the summer holidays, or even September or October 2025 before your appeal is heard. This is because it can be difficult to arrange some appeal hearings while the schools are closed for the summer.

- c. Appeals for in-year admissions must be heard within 30 school days of the appeal being lodged.

9 Why does it take so long?

The appeals process is laid down by legislation and correct procedures must be followed. They have been drawn up to ensure that both you and the admission authority have an equal opportunity to prepare the case for presentation to the Independent Appeals Panel. Once your appeal form has been received, the Admissions Officer gathers all the relevant information together (which usually also means contact with the school you have appealed for) and prepares a statement giving the reason why a school place is not available. The panel will then consider this alongside your case.

Panel members have a statutory duty to act in accordance with the following Acts and Codes:

- a. The School Standards and Framework Act 1998 as amended by subsequent legislation and case law.
- b. The Codes on School Admissions and School Admission Appeals, which have been produced by the Department for Education.

Arrangements will be made to call a hearing of the Independent Appeals Panel and you will be notified of this date at least fourteen school days prior to the hearing date.

10 What if the school I am appealing for is a Roman Catholic primary/secondary school or Academy?

The governors of voluntary aided schools are responsible for arranging for an independent panel to hear appeals against a decision to refuse admission to a school. The panel will hear the appeal in accordance with a Code of Practice that has been drawn up in consultation with the Council on Tribunals. For information about appeals for these schools contact the Clerk to the Appeals Panel by emailing school.appeals@manchester.gov.uk

11 What should I put as my reasons for appeal?

If you wish to appeal, you must complete the appeal form setting out your grounds for your appeal in writing. The admission authority must not limit the grounds on which an appeal can be made. If you also wish to submit any further supporting evidence, you can do so by a specified deadline that the Clerk to the Independent Appeals Panel will inform you of in writing. If any of your evidence arrives after this date, the panel has to decide whether to accept it before the hearing commences.

Remember that you are appealing for a school rather than against the one you have been allocated.

12 Need I submit written medical evidence?

If there are medical reasons why a parent wishes their child to go to a particular school, they must submit this as written medical evidence. It is the responsibility of the parent to obtain such evidence from either the child's doctor or hospital. In order for this to be considered it must be sent at the time of the appeal application where possible and be dated within the past three months.

13 I don't wish my child to miss any education before the appeal is considered. What should I do?

You have a duty to ensure that your child is educated. You should arrange for your child to start at the school that has been offered to you. This will not adversely affect your appeal.

The Admissions Officer will endeavour to offer an alternative school while you are waiting for your appeal to be heard.

14 Group appeals – what are group admission appeals?

Where there are a large number of appeals for a particular school or Academy, parents may be invited to attend at the same time to hear the admission authority's presentation. The panel and all parents appealing for school places will then be able to put questions to the representative from the admission authority.

The panel then determines whether the admission authority has proved it would be prejudicial to the provision of efficient education and the efficient use of resources to admit more children to that year group. If the panel does not find this to be the case, all appeals will be granted.

If the panel finds that prejudice has been proved, you and all the other parents will be invited to make your individual cases to the panel at the times allocated. The panel and the admission authority representatives will then be able to ask you questions.

15 What does the Appeals Panel consider?

- The Appeal Statement prepared by the admission authority.
- The appeal form submitted by the parent/carer.
- Any other written evidence submitted by the Presenting Officer.
- Any other written evidence submitted by the parent/carer.

A copy of the Appeal Statement will be sent to you by the Clerk approximately fourteen days before the appeal hearing.

16 How does the Appeals Panel reach its decision?

The panel will carefully consider the evidence presented by both parties, before reaching a decision.

18 What will happen at the hearing?

The hearing will be as informal as possible and the chair will try to put you at ease. The panel has to follow a procedure. Details of the procedure will be sent to you by the Clerk when you are told of the arrangements.

18 Who attends the panel hearing?

The following parties attend the Independent Appeals Panel hearing:

- The Independent Appeals Panel (see note 19).
- The Clerk to the Independent Appeals Panel.
- The Presenting Officer from the admission authority and possibly a representative of the school you have appealed for.
- An interpreter – the Clerk can arrange one for you if requested beforehand.
- Yourself/representative – if you choose to bring a representative, they must not be a representative of the school that is the subject of the appeal, as this could create a conflict of interest and be unfair to other parents who are appealing.

19 Who makes up the Independent Appeals Panel?

The Appeals Panel consists of three members. The panel will comprise one person from each of the categories below:

- a. At least one person experienced in education who is acquainted with educational conditions in the area or who is the parent of a registered pupil at a school
- b. At least one lay member. Lay members are persons without personal experience in the management or provision of education in any school (although lay members may have experience as governors of other schools or have been involved in education in any other voluntary capacity).

The third panel member will be from either (a) or (b).

The chair may either be a lay member or a person experienced in education.

None of the Appeals Panel will have any former knowledge of the case other than your appeal form and the admission authority's statement. All members of the Appeals Panel are independent of the school and the admission authority.

20 Should I attend the Appeals Panel hearing?

You can choose whether to attend the hearing or not, but you are recommend to attend. Each case is likely to last for about 20 minutes, although there is no set time limit.

If you decide not to attend the hearing, the panel could consider and determine the appeal in your absence. In this situation the appeal will be dealt with by reference to the written information submitted by both the admission authority and yourself. It is therefore important that you tell the panel in writing everything you want them to take into account.

At the appeal hearing, one of the aims of the panel is to make sure that you get a full and fair hearing.

21 Can I have legal representation?

Yes, but it is not necessary as the hearing is not a Court of Law and we endeavour to keep the hearing as informal as possible. The Presenting Officer will not usually have a solicitor present. The clerk is present to ensure that the procedure is correctly followed and the principles of natural justice are observed.

22 When and where are Appeals Panel hearings held?

All admissions appeal hearings will continue to be conducted remotely:

- by video conference

You will be contacted in advance of the hearing by email. This is to confirm your appeal hearing date and time. If you have marked your form to state that you do not want to attend the hearing, you will still be informed of the date and time of the hearing.

You will be sent an email containing the link to join the Zoom meeting, with the consent of the admission authority.

The appeal hearing is held in private, and no parties will be permitted to record the proceedings. You can be represented or accompanied by a friend at the hearing via video or telephone or through written submissions.

The appeal hearing will last around 20 to 30 minutes but you'll be allowed as much time as possible for you to present your case to the panel.

Following the conclusion of the remote hearing, the panel will consider their decision in private, with the clerk present.

The Independent Appeal Panel (IAP) will be considering a number of appeals on the same day as yours and it's not always possible to keep to the exact timeslots provided. Appeal hearings may be longer or shorter than planned so we may contact you slightly earlier or later than the time of your hearing. Please do not contact us unless you have not received your joining email or automated phone call within 20 minutes of the start time of your hearing.

Technical failure

If at any time during the remote hearing you lose connection, end the phone call or video conference. The clerk will attempt to contact you again for your remote hearing to resume. Where this is not possible, this would usually result in the remote hearing being rescheduled. However, if it's not possible to do so, the appeal panel will retain the right to determine the appeal on the basis of the written information submitted before the appeal.

23 What if I am unable to attend on the date given to me?

You should email the Clerk immediately to arrange for a new date.

24 What happens if I decide not to attend?

If you have indicated on your appeals form that you wish to attend the hearing but subsequently decide not to, it is extremely important that you inform the Clerk to the Independent Appeals as soon as possible by email.

If you fail to attend on the day of the hearing and have not notified the Clerk prior to this date, the Appeals Panel may go ahead and make its decision on the written information you have submitted.

25 Will I be told of the decision of the Appeals Panel?

Yes. You will receive the outcome on the day the decision is made and a decision letter will be sent to by email as soon as possible.

26 Is the decision of the Appeals Panel final?

Yes. The decision is binding on the admission authority unless it is overturned by a Court of Law.

27 What do I do if my appeal is refused?

As previously stated, parents are under a duty to ensure that their children are educated. You should find an alternative school for your child as soon as possible and you may wish to discuss your available options again with the Admissions Team.

28 If my appeal is refused, can I appeal again?

For any particular school you can only appeal once per year. However, when there are significant and material changes in the circumstances of the parent or school, eg. when a family changes home address, the Clerk to the Appeals Panel would then consider whether a further appeal could be heard.

29 My child is not yet five years old. Can I appeal for a place at a nursery?

No. The appeals system only applies to primary and high schools.
